As the holder of an AFSL, First Financial is responsible for the financial services we provide to you. First Financial acts on its own behalf when these financial services are provided to you.

Products available

A range of financial products offered by many leading financial product providers are available for recommendation by us. Details of the available products we can recommend are contained in our Approved Product List (APL).

Internal and external experts provide financial product research, which is used to carefully select and maintain an extensive list of approved products for us to select from. We conduct due diligence on external research report providers that provide us with research.

We will only recommend a product to you after considering its appropriateness to your individual objectives, financial situation, and needs. The recommendations will be made after conducting an investigation into the financial products and may require us to investigate and consider a financial product which is not on our APL.

How we ensure that the advice we give you suits your needs and objectives

To ensure we provide advice suitable for your needs and financial circumstances, we firstly need to understand your financial situation, personal financial objectives and needs. We will follow a step-by-step process as outlined below:

1. We will meet with you for an initial consultation. During this meeting we will discuss your expectations and provide you with details of the services we can offer.
2. We will collect all the information we need from you, including your personal financial situation, financial objectives and needs. If you do not wish to provide the information we require, we will advise you of the possible consequences of not disclosing your full personal information and the impact on the recommendations given. This may include not being able to provide advice on the subject matter you request.
3. We will help you identify your goals and may discuss your attitude towards investment risk.
4. We may consider strategies and areas such as income, social security, insurance, cash and estate planning requirements. Where required we will also conduct a reasonable investigation of the financial products that may be suitable to implement the strategies as part of the recommendations. Based on these and other considerations, we will prepare and present you with a written Statement of Advice (SOA), or in some cases depending on the circumstances, a Record of Advice (ROA). We will explain in the SOA (or ROA) the basis for the advice, and any remuneration, benefits or associations which could have influenced the advice. Where we recommend financial products, we will provide you with a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) or other disclosure document containing information about each product recommended, to help you make an informed decision about whether to purchase that product.
5. We will discuss our recommendations with you, make any changes you require and gain your agreement to implement those recommendations.
6. We will then implement those recommendations.
7. We will meet with you periodically to review your financial circumstances if we agree to an ongoing advice service arrangement which includes a regular review component. If an ongoing advice service arrangement is entered into, this will be documented in your Ongoing Advice Fee Arrangement Letter (also referred to as a Client Service Agreement) and SOA. Where you have an ongoing fee arrangement, we will renew your arrangement with you each year.

We will also explain to you any significant risks of the financial products and strategies which we recommend to you. If you are unclear of the risks, do not hesitate to question us further.

In certain circumstances, we may not provide you with personal advice via an SOA or ROA, as outlined above. These circumstances may include:

1. Where we provide you with only general advice, such as through seminars and newsletters
2. Further advice or verbal advice – if you previously received advice recorded in an SOA, any further personal advice provided by us may be recorded in a ROA. We will not necessarily provide you with a copy of the ROA unless you request it (see below)

Documents we provide if we give further advice

Where a further review is conducted and personal advice is provided, in some circumstances we are not required to provide you with an SOA for this further advice. Where this is the case, if you have not already been provided with an ROA, you may request a copy of the ROA from us by contacting us (on any of the contact details set out in Part 2 of the FSG) for a period of seven years from when the further advice was first provided to you.

Other information you should consider before deciding whether to proceed with our recommendations

If you receive personal financial advice this will be documented in an SOA, or in specific circumstances an ROA, that confirms the discussions you have had with us, the recommendations we are making and the basis for those recommendations. These documents will also explain how those recommendations will work towards achieving your goals, any relevant fees received by us, and any associations with financial product providers.

When a financial product is recommended to you, you will be provided with a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) or other disclosure document issued by the product provider. Among other things, the PDS contains information about the risks, benefits, features and fees payable in respect of the product. In combination, these documents will help you make an informed decision about whether to proceed with our recommendations.

How you can instruct us

You may specify how you would like to give us instructions, for example, by phone, fax, email, or text messages, using any of the contact details set out in Part 2 of the FSG. Alternatively, you may provide instructions to us in person.

MDA Service Agreement & Investment Program

We will provide you with an SOA where we recommend you enter an MDA service. The SOA will explain why we believe the service is appropriate for you. It will also set out the terms and conditions of the MDA service and the Investment Program including:

What are the risks associated with using the MDA service?

By authorising us to make changes to your investments, you accept that we will act on your behalf within the authority given, and our acts bind you. It is important you understand what we are authorised to do and that you carefully read and understand the activities that you are authorising us to do on your behalf.

Do you have to enter a contract for us to provide MDA services?

Yes. This MDA contract will set out the terms and conditions of the authority and the investment program sets out how your money will be invested. We will agree and prepare the investment program for you based on your relevant personal circumstances, your financial objectives and your needs and review the program every 12 months.

Do we provide custodial or depository services for your portfolio?

We do not provide custodial or depository services. This means your investments will be held by the custodian nominated for the relevant financial product. This financial services guide complies with the ASIC Corporations (Managed Discretionary Account Services) Instrument 2016/968.
